

Thursday, January 20th, 4:30 p.m.
Scandal At the Montana State Highway Commission
with Jon Axline

When Governor Elmer Holt accused the state highway commissioners of malfeasance in 1936, it sparked an ugly process that eventually involved the Montana Supreme Court and a Helena newspaper reporter named Paul Maclean, who was later made famous in A River Runs through It. Montana Department of Transportation Jon Axline will reveal all.