CALL FOR POSTERS: 2023 Montana History Conference

The Montana Historical Society invites proposals for undergraduate* and graduate student poster presentations at the Montana History Conference, September 28-30, 2023 in Helena. Poster presentations offer students the opportunity to present research in a concise visual format and encourage professional networking at Montana's largest annual gathering of historians.

Special consideration will be given to topics related to 20th-century history, architecture, and archaeology, including but not limited to Indigenous history and identity; environmental history; Montana in film and literature; race, gender, and gender identity; technological change; past/present parallels; and natural resource management. Completed research, preliminary findings or first phases of long-term projects can also be presented as posters. Students are also encouraged to present research even if they are not the principal researcher for the project, i.e. research done under the guidance of a faculty member.

Submit a Proposal

Visit bit.ly/41BMNkn or scan the QR code to submit a proposal. Poster proposals must be submitted by June 1, 2023. All proposals will be acknowledged by June 15.

Requirements

Accepted poster presenters will design and print a poster (36 by 48-inches max) summarizing the research topic and present it in-person on September 29 and 30, 2023 at the Delta Colonial Hotel in Helena (schedule TBD). MTHS will provide poster backing and easels. Detailed guidelines for preparing and presenting posters will be provided for accepted proposals.

Benefits

Accepted poster presenters will receive complimentary conference registration and a $300 travel/expense reimbursement.

Contact Christine.Brown@mt.gov with questions about the poster session. For general information about the Montana History Conference, please visit <https://mhs.mt.gov/education/index3>.

Undergraduates must have a written endorsement from the professor overseeing the research project.*
