

Montana and the Great War Scavenger Hunt

Explore the Montana and the Great War Story Map at <http://mhs.mt.gov/education/WWI> to find the answers to the following questions.

1. Name an African American soldier from Montana. Roy Winburn or Captain Horace Bivins
2. What was the American Protective League? Name one Montana community in which it was active. The American Protective League was a national "active secret force of volunteer agents who ferreted out disloyalty." They were active in Froid.
3. What did telegraph operator Minda Brownell McAnnally use to protect her fellow operators when she was sick with the flu? Gauze and listerine
4. Who came from this latitude and longitude—46.3629015,-104.2789468—and what made her remarkable? Surgical nurse Violet Hodgson was among the first Montana women, and one of the few married women, to serve in France.
5. Name the Montanan who participated in the dedication of the Tomb of the Unknown soldier. Chief Plenty Coups
6. What was the Montana Council of Defense's Order #3? Order No. 3 listed twelve books that all schools and libraries needed to remove from circulation. It also banned the use of the German language in schools and churches. (Either answer is acceptable)
7. Which town's Red Cross Society published a cookbook of "tempting recipes ... [to] help banish memories of forbidden things"? Hot Springs
8. Find the story that is connected to the site nearest to your town (remember to look at all three sets of stories: Over Here, Over There, and Home Again.) What is it? Where did it take place? How many miles from where you live? Answers will vary.
9. How many men in your county served in World War I? Find the answer on the Service Numbers map in the Over There section.
10. Name one new thing you learned from the stories on this map that particularly disturbed, intrigued, confused or excited you. Answers will vary.